Grace Boxer Roberta Myrra Laura Jarvis

Quilting stitch: Nancy Haacke's
"Broken Glass"

The top is from the Safe House Table and in my opinion shows great originality and creativity.

Roberta Myrra chose the backing from donated fabrics and I chose the binding fabric.

Laura Jarvis of Kootsi Quilting did the quilting and binding.

In addition there is a decorative pillow of standard pillow size constructed from the backing and binding fabrics.

Susan Morrison

I belong to an online fabric sale and creative group - Texas Fabric Stash members. The purple top was sent to me. The talented Melissa Gregoire of our guild did the fabulous machine quilting.

I created the SuperHeroes quilt from fabric donated by Texas Fabric Stash members (an online group). The talented Melissa Gregoire of our guild did the fabulous machine quilting.

Rick and Marie Ware

As we were taking the pictures after the guild meeting, Rick and Marie told us how happy they were to pair the elephant fabric on the back with the savanna fabric on the front.

Rick and Marie Ware

As we took pictures after the guild meeting, we also took pictures of backs we liked.
Here's one of them.

Rick and Marie Ware

During the post-meeting picture taking, the Wares told us how thrilled they were that they happened to have the perfect batik in their stash to serve as a border for the complicated piecing.

(Starting with slide 23 and continuing on, the quilt holder was Sonja Hagen. She got her aerobic workout doing this.)
